I am using IsolatedStorageModel. When the screen is resized (to a smaller size) the tiles fit in a new window with a smaller window size. However, the tiles move around the image as you scroll the window. I want to know how to keep the tiles on the same position and when scrolling the image, scroll the tiles along with the image. A: To keep the tiles on the same position when scrolling the window, use the 'Stretch' property on the image. The tiles will keep a fixed position. However, when you resize the window, the tiles will move around the image as you scroll. So, I would suggest you keep a copy of the image with the tiles fixed on it. Use that copy when resizing the window to a smaller size. The Seven Wonders of Paris
