Unauthorized Access to Windows 8.1. Some of the users are facing the unauthorized access to Windows 8.1 while using KMSpico to activate windows. In such situations users are required to activate the OS in a single language and that needs to be done manually by the user. But there are times when the user is not aware of the language of the operating system and is also not familiar with the activation process of it. Moreover, some times it is also a minor problem as OS got activated in right language in spite of the fact that user hasn't selected the language that he wants. Users try to activate the windows but gets an error saying "Windows could not be activated. You have more than one language installed on your computer, and must install the language in which the operating system was activated. You can select the language below. Then, continue the activation of the operating system." The users start experiencing such problems after Windows 8.1 installation, but it is possible. Moreover, not all languages are supported by all editions of Windows. However, in such case users can use KMSpico to activate the operating system in a single language.

Though some editions of Windows are not supported by different languages, users can create a single language independent of its edition using KMSpico. Each language has its own activation key, and to activate the OS, users need to generate an Activation Key in order to activate it in a single language. It is a tedious process but cannot be ignored.
